

Forget everything you recall of us

Larsen & Niclasen does not exist anymore. The future name of our company is LANIC and we would like to hear from you if you consider yourself one of the best brokers in this business.

Launching a new strategy and ambition to grow, we expect to hire 3-4 new colleagues during this year. We are looking for talented people who know how to get things done and bring experience from either handy size or handymax/supramax.

We offer an attractive package and an open invitation to join our team of partners within a few years. We will provide you with space to develop yourself and the opportunity to develop us. Working out of our new modern premises in Hellerup just north of Copenhagen, you will benefit from the respect we have inherited from the old Larsen & Niclasen, when we together with you take LANIC to the next level.

Contact Managing Partner, Michael J. Kraefting + 45 4075 6670 or mjk@lanic.dk for more information and details.
